

Community General Obstetrician-Gynaecologist, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Dalhousie University, IWK Health, Central Zone Nova Scotia Health

The Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology invites applications for a part-time (0.5), fee-for-service position as a Community General Obstetrician-Gynaecologist. Candidates should possess an FRCSC or equivalent certification.

The successful applicant will practice clinically at a community-based clinic in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. Gynecologic operative care and gynaecology on-call responsibilities will be located at the Dartmouth General Regional Hospital. Labour and delivery on-call responsibilities and Cesarean-sections will be located at the IWK Health Centre, which is a tertiary obstetrical site in Halifax. The candidate should possess strong surgical and obstetrical skills, as well as experience in the management of emergency and ambulatory patients.

The IWK Health Centre is a teaching hospital associated with Dalhousie University, Faculty of Medicine. Candidates would be expected to be innovative educators involved with postgraduate and undergraduate medical education.

The IWK and NSHA are committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. Applications are encouraged from Indigenous persons, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and/or gender identities, and all qualified candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Applicants should submit their curriculum vitae along with an application letter stating their interest and suitability for the position by March 1, 2024.
